

← Thread

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇸🇪🇫🇮🇪🇺🌐 @DavidSteadson

Since Day 1 of the pandemic I've been claiming that Norway is the most comparable country to Sweden in terms of structural factors that influence the spread and mortality of SARS2

Swedish health authorities regularly made ridiculous comparisons eg with London and Liechtenstein.

1:38 AM · Jan 31, 2023 · 52K Views

62 Retweets 7 Quote Tweets 209 Likes

Tweet your reply

Reply

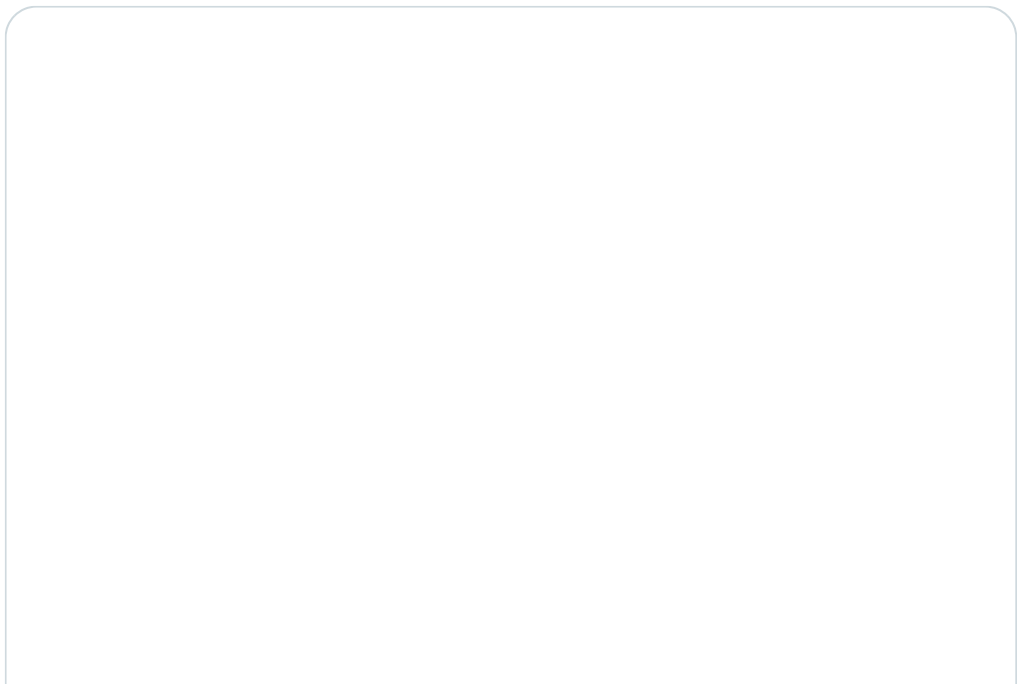

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇸🇪🇫🇮🇪🇺🌐 @DavidSteadson · Jan 31

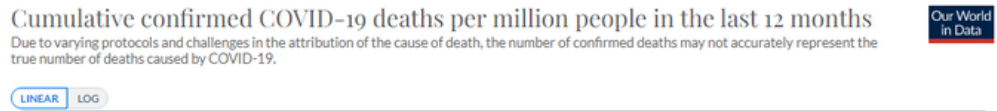

Replying to @DavidSteadson

Well, now we can see if my assertion was correct, and look at cumulative mortality in Norway and Sweden over the last 12 months, with similar vaccination rates, and essentially no mitigations in either country.

They're almost in lockstep.

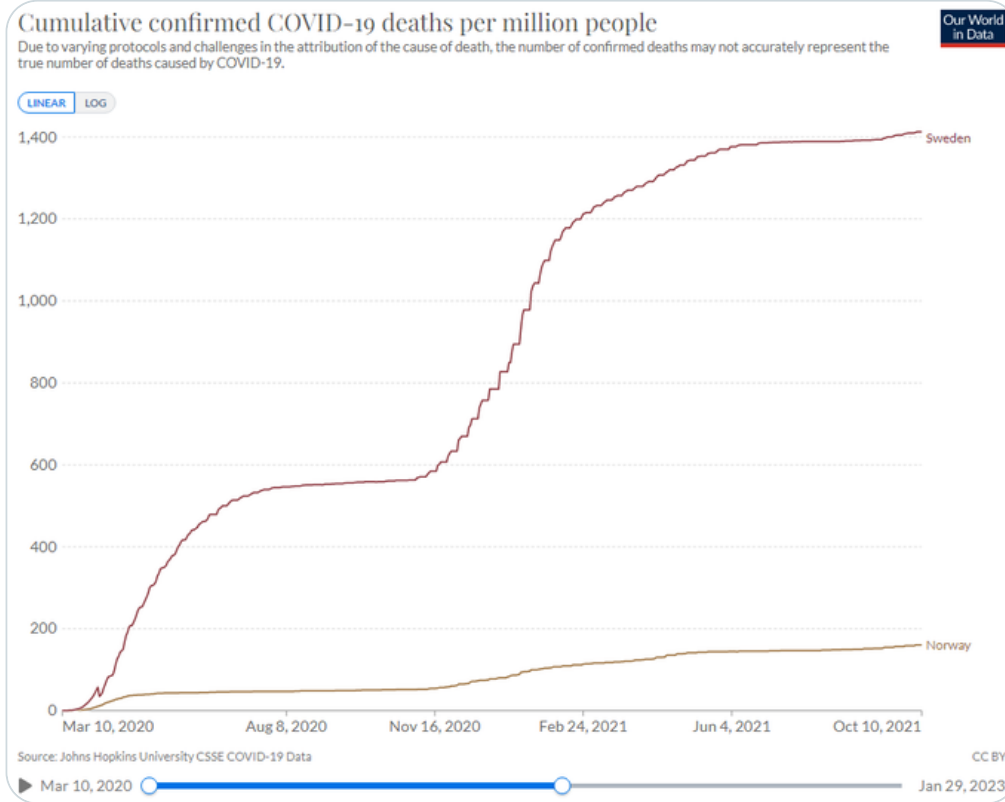

1 41 167 10.3K

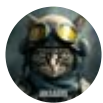

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇸🇪🇩🇪🇪🇺🌐 @DavidSteadson · Jan 31

Prior to October 2021, Norway had a significant number of mitigations in place to control the spread of the virus. Sweden had relatively few.

1 46 168 8,746

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇸🇪🇩🇪🇪🇺🌐 @DavidSteadson · Jan 31

Two clear conclusions.

1. Sweden and Norway are epidemiologically well matched.
2. Covid Health Policy matters.

QED.

(Someone feel free to write a paper)

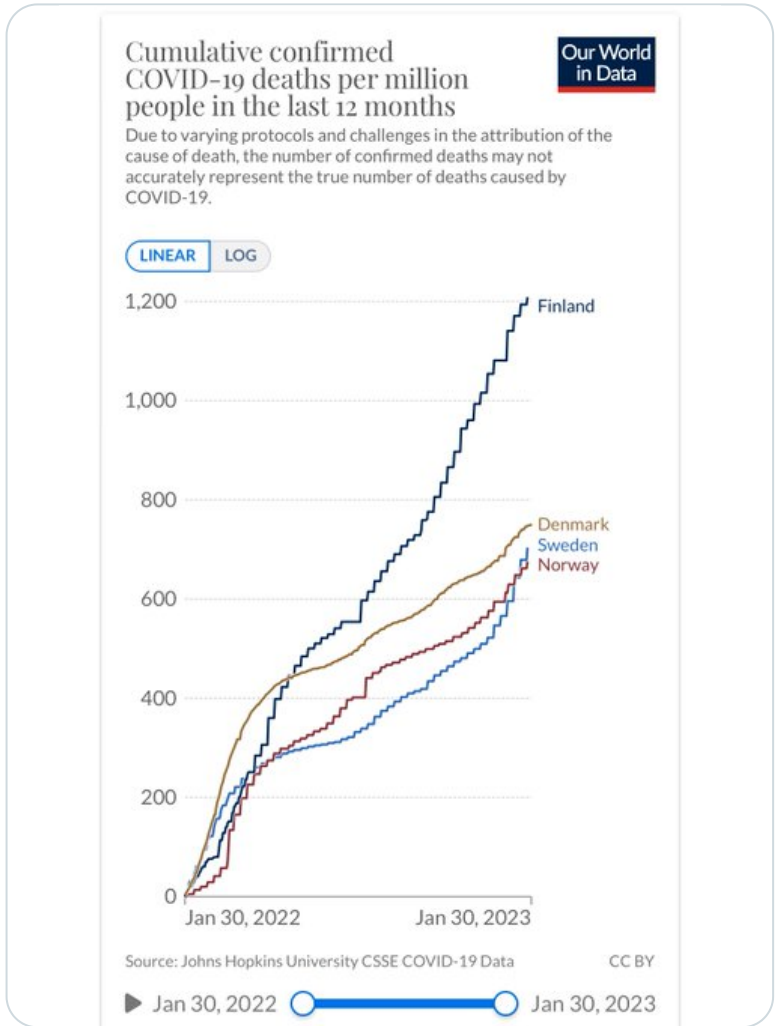

4 29 204 11.7K

Stefan Parvu @sperformance · Jan 31

Replying to @DavidSteadson

Nothing beats Finland anymore :(Good policies.

1 1 5 1,623

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇩🇪🇪🇺🌐 @DavidSteadson · Jan 31

Replying to @sperformance
Vax rate problems?

2 2 1,386

Show replies

robert handklaver @handklaver · Feb 1

Replying to @DavidSteadson

It's all about migrants and poor people according to Tegnell.

They didn't wash their hands sufficiently because they didn't understand the recommendations or couldn't afford the soap?

And while Sweden has fared better than many European countries during the pandemic, it has done worse than all of its Nordic neighbours. Tegnell claimed that Sweden stood out more from the likes of Norway and Finland because it had more migrants from outside the EU and more poorer people.

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇸🇪🇫🇮🇪🇺🌐 @DavidSteadson · Feb 1

Replying to @handklaver

Yeah, the usual Tegnellian bullshit.

“Swedish society is very different from the

David Steadson #NAFO 🇺🇸🇸🇪🇫🇮🇪🇺🌐 @DavidStea... · Oct 20, 2020

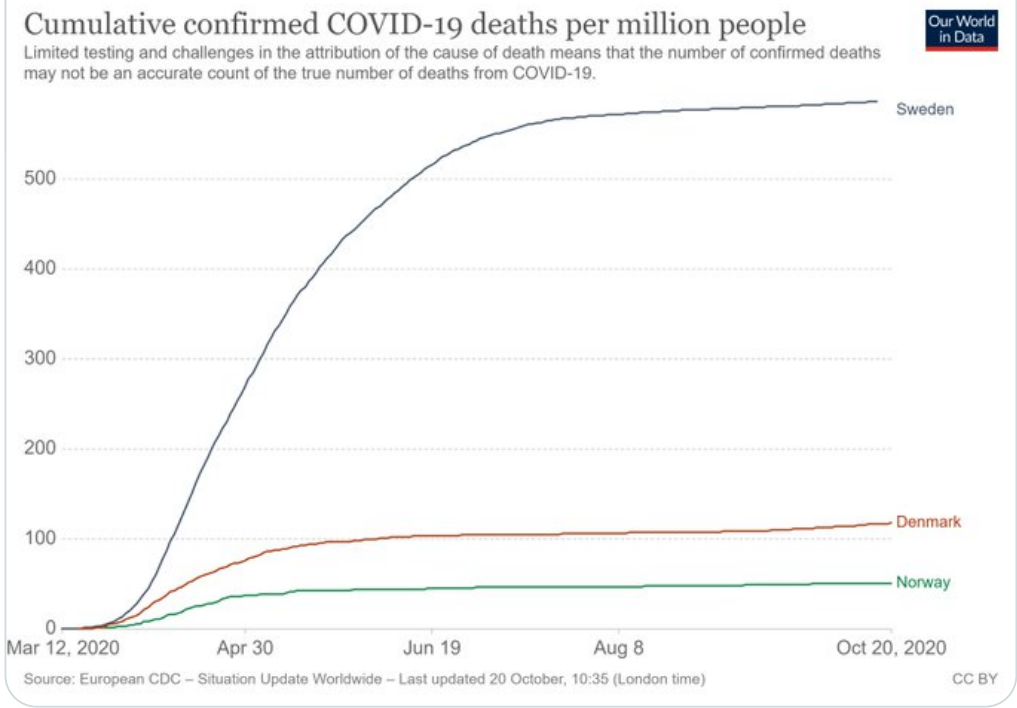

Stockholm foreign-born population - 26% long history together and have similar languages.

Oslo foreign-born population - 26%

Copenhagen foreign-born population - 27%

Covid doesn't care about history or language, it will take explain it Tegnell is such a smart man twitter.com/killedbyproxy/

1 3 24 1,581

Show replies

Andréa Eklund @AndraEklund1 · Jan 31

Replying to @DavidSteadson

And Belgium!

3 1,018

Roc @ror_3d · Jan 31

Replying to @DavidSteadson

Yeah if you look at when the waves started (the 7 day average instead of cumulative), they match almost exactly. But Norway cut them out fast while Sweden let them rip

9

1,203

